Kronprinzenpalais

The nation's capital is home to many event locations. Those looking for that somewhere special need look no further than the historical city centre: in the Kronprinzenpalais (Crown Prince's Palace) to be exact. The former residence of the Prussian monarchy, the impressive building has also been home to famous artworks, exhibitions by masters such as Franz Marc and officials visiting the capital of what used to be East Berlin. Many companies, associations and public institutions have already used this special place to host their events. You could be next. Get in touch to find out about all the possibilities.
