Odysseum

The ODYSSEUM is Germany's first scientific adventure museum, and Cologne's No.1 address for extraordinary events amidst an innovative ambience. It's the unique combination of science, astonishment and entertainment that makes the venue so enticing. Accompanying live performances such as the 'Science Show', the 'Moonshine-Rally' and tailor-made 'Work Shows' complete what's on offer. The museum can host events with as little as 50 guests all the way up to those with a total of 1,200 participants. On top of that, the event team within the ODYSSEUM's full-service agency is standing by should you require professional support during the planning and execution phases of your scientific spectacle.
